Bon Appetit! - show description

This mad comic catches fruits & vegetables on his face. Trying to open the wine he ends up in a one-arm handstand on top of the bottle. It's culinary slapstick, challenging and enchanting the audience with food for thought and laughter for the belly.

performer's biography

This solo show features Joe Dieffenbacher, a former circus clown and elephant jumper, co-founder of Los Payasos Mendigos and the Abbotts of Unreason. A master teacher in the art of Clown, Mask Performance & Design, and Slapstick, he has collaborated with such companies as the Belfast Community Circus, Los Payasos Mendigos, the British pop sensations, Take That, and was recently featured in the 2012 London Olympics. He is currently the Director of Clown Conservatory at the Circus Center in San Francisco, California.

STREET SET UP - please read carefully!

- Need performance space against a wall or building, sheltered from the wind.
- The show plays best on the SAME LEVEL as the audience, NOT on a stage. (if show must be presented on a stage see details below).
- Playing area must be hard and level. The show cannot be played on grass, gravel, or sand.
- We have our own sound system. We need one electrical plug in point no more than 20 m. from performing area.
- Organizer must supply adequate lighting if show is to be played in the evening. This should illuminate the entire playing area.

STAGE SET UP - please read carefully!

- If show is to be presented on a stage it must be 8m wide by 7m deep minimum.
- Stage MUST have stairs leading onto the stage from the FRONT not the sides. (the show uses audience volunteers and they must be able to access the stage from the front).
- If the stage is covered the height from stage floor to cover must be 4 meters.
- If you have ANY questions about the set up please contact Joe Dieffenbacher
